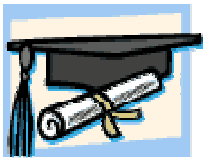
Training Season



Now that the holidays are over, training season is on!

The best investment you can make in your software is to get training. Your Adagio Consultant Reseller can provide personalized training, specific to your needs. You may also want to bookmark the Adagio Training web page.

This email shows you some of the training options available in the next few months.

Academy Online

Get top-quality training over the web with an Academy Online. The beauty of web training is there are no travel costs, lost luggage, fighting traffic, or searching for parking.

Instead of having all the training in one day, the web course is spread over a week. Each day begins at 10:00 Pacific time and lasts for an hour and a half. You can even invite others in your organization to take the training with you, on your workstation, at no extra cost. We provide one set of training materials per registrant.

Register:	Academy Online
Date:	March 10-14, 2008 Monday to Friday
Price:	$395 if you register this week; then $495

Adagio Webinars

The Adagio webinars starting at 10:00 Pacific each Wednesday have been very popular. They are free to all users on an Adagio Upgrades Plan, only $75 for others.

For details, schedule, and registration, go to Adagio webinars.

Adagio Training Conferences

The first three days concentrate on Adagio Ledger, Receivables, Payables, and BankRec (the Financial Suite). The final day is devoted exclusively to creating financial reports with Adagio Ledger or Adagio FX. You can register for either or both training events.
